EVENING 10 SERIES - No 14 (G10/98)

Thursday 17th July 2014

Promoted for and on behalf of Cycling Time Trials under their rules and regulations

Report

Extremely hot weather this evening offered the hope amongst the field that some fast times were to be had, although as it turned out there was a deceptive easterly breeze to make it a bit more tricky than that. Some, but not all, riders revelled in it though and put in some great performances.

Just three evening 10s left to go after tonight. The competition for the club 10 series is really hotting up as Trevor Leeding puts the squeeze on long time leader Simon Atkinson in his absence.

It is just possible that both could end up with the optimum score of just 6 points, in which case it would come down to aggregate times for those rides. For Trevor to draw absolutely level he would have to produce either two winning rides averaging 21:01 or three winning rides averaging 21:33. Anything better than that and he wins it outright. A tall order but who knows?

In tonight's WECC Club event the top three riders all went inside 21:45 and all rode personal bests.

Trevor Leeding rode a 21:33 for a new personal best to add to the 25 mile personal best (55:41) that he rode three days earlier. A superb week.

Carl Trevis again took the second spot with a fine 21:40. That's four sub 22 minute rides in a row and a remarkable improvement on the 23:07 that preceeded those four rides.

The rapidly improving Dom Maxwell was close behind and clearly getting used to his new time trial bike as he recorded a 21:45.

Perhaps a rider to watch is Jeff Blunsdon. He rode a 25:18 in his fifth ride and has achieved the distinction of improving his time on each of those rides.

The names of the three fastest riders on the night had a familiar ring. The McNamara brothers took first and third places, Chris taking the family honours from Simon with a superb 19:57.

The meat in the sandwich, so to speak, was Marc Clothier of Southdowns Bikes who improved his time of last week by 44 seconds to a very fine 20:14.
