Report

It was a good job that there was only a small entry as roadworks posed challenges aplenty. The road surface on the final stretch from Washington roundabout to the finish line had been gouged out in readiness for a new tarmac section so it was a melange of holes, bumps and loose gravel. Furthermore the work was due to commence at 8 pm so that left minimal time for riders to complete the course and for the event officials to tidy up (signs etc).

Just the single WECC entry – and that is a new first. Unfortunately Cheesy had to drop out due to the effects of a cold.

Thanks are due to the riders from other clubs who are keeping the series going. Fast too, with all riders beating the 25 mph mark.
